Core Theme 3, Objective 3, Outcome 1

Indicator 1: Advisory Boards strategic participation in the governance and direction of the colleges/ departments is demonstrated in the minutes of the advisory board meetings

College of Arts Letters and Education

In 2012-13, seven junior and senior faculty representing each department within CALE comprised a Faculty Advisory Council which assisted in setting strategic goals for the college. With the departure of the Dean who convened this board, the group was disbanded. Our intent is to revive the group (with new members) under the new Dean to be hired in 2014.

One set of advisory board meeting minutes notes survived the transition to a new dean. These minutes are available.

College of Business and Public Administration

The college, as a whole, is served by two advisory boards: the Dean’s Advisory Board in Spokane and the Puget Sound Advisory board on the West Coast.

- The Dean’s Advisory Board participated in the 2012 dean’s search and in the development of the College revised mission/vision and strategic plan in 2012 as well. This is reflected in the minutes of the college retreat (6-1-2012) rather than in the Advisory Board minutes. Recently, the Advisory Board was consulted on a matter of curriculum (2-20-2014.)
- The Puget Sound Advisory Board was dormant for several years and is just recently been resuscitated.

The Accounting discipline is served by a very active advisory board that meets often.

- The Board has been solicited on matters of curriculum;
- The Board has participated in faculty searches.

The Urban and Regional Planning program has a very active advisory board.

- The Board is closely involved with program curriculum;
- The Board is closely involved with accreditation standards compliance.

The Public Administration program has an active advisory board that has:

- Helped develop and oversee activities of the program including curriculum;
- Provided insight into professional administration issues and needs;
- Created links between students, faculty and professionals in the decision to seek accreditation for the program;
- Was involved in the decision to seek accreditation for the program;
- Was involved in the development of professional administrators within the region.
