- Each year, 4-6 education majors serve as board members for the Eastern Reading Council, a sub-group of the International Reading Association. Darcy Bradley is the advisor for this group.

College of Business and Public Administration

This evidence bellows refers to the participation of our full time faculty and staff in the community as described in their current CV’s. The rightmost column shows the instances of consulting for entities in the community, mostly small firms and non-profit organization delivered by faculty-led student teams. This table does not show the involvement of our faculty in their academic societies, including, membership, reviewing, session organizing or chairing, publishing, etc.
